STAT
I have been asked to respond to your letter to Judge Webster requesting a speaker at the Fall 1989 Research Security Administrators Conference. You asked to have [redacted] address the group regarding defection profiles. [redacted] has undertaken other work for us, but one of his colleagues, [redacted] would be pleased to discuss this subject at your meeting. If that is agreeable, I will be pleased to have her contact you to refine the subject and complete arrangements.

Very truly yours,

Judge William Webster
Director, Central Intelligence Agency
CIA

Washington, D.C. 20505

Dear Judge Webster:

On October 27, 1989 the Research Security Administrators (RSA) will hold their annual fall conference at the Torrance Marriott in Torrance, California. RSA, founded in 1956, is a non-profit regional organization which is concerned with all military, technical, scientific and social matters which have an impact upon the security of the United States. Although informal in nature, e.g., no membership rolls, dues, etc., RSA (through its Board of Directors) strives to be at the forefront in organizing a continuing series of informative seminars concerning the technical aspects of national security as well as other topics of concern to the security professional today. We hold two seminars a year in California alternating between the Northern and Southern parts of the state. This year our seminar theme will concentrate on DoD contractor security issues such as Procurement Fraud, Espionage, and Technology Transfer.

We would like to complete our program by extending an invitation to  of your staff.  spoke to several Southern California defense contractor personnel approximately 2 years ago and we feel that his insight and observations regarding defection profiles will be very informative to our audience.

If you approve of his participation, we will contact him directly to make arrangements and accommodations.

Thank you in advance for your consideration of our request.

Very truly yours,

F. Gerald Downey
Program Chairman
